TOPIC: DONâ??T SHARE PREMATURE TESTIMONIES

MEMORISE:

A time to rend, and a time to sew; a time to keep silence, and a time to speak;
Ecclesiastes 3:7

READ: 1 Kings 18:41-45

And Elijah said unto Ahab, Get thee up, eat and drink; for there is a sound of abundance of rain.
42 So Ahab went up to eat and to drink. And Elijah went up to the top of Carmel; and he cast himself down upon the earth, and put his face between his knees,
43 And said to his servant, Go up now, look toward the sea. And he went up, and looked, and said, There is nothing. And he said, Go again seven times.
44 And it came to pass at the seventh time, that he said, Behold, there ariseth a little cloud out of the sea, like a manâ??s hand. And he said, Go up, say unto Ahab, Prepare thy chariot, and get thee down, that the rain stop thee not.
45 And it came to pass in the mean while, that the heaven was black with clouds and wind, and there was a great rain. And Ahab rode, and went to Jezreel.

RCCG OPEN HEAVENS 25 NOVEMBER 2026 TODAYâ??S MESSAGE

There are some testimonies you should not share until they are fully established in your life. During the annual conventions of The Redeemed Christian Church of God, I usually call out people who had been trusting God for the fruit of the womb and had received their miracles. However, I would usually say, â??Some people came last year, trusting God for the fruit of the womb. Now, they are pregnant. If you are one of them, please do not come forward yet. Instead, wait until the baby is born.â?• This is not due to fear of the enemy; it is based on the wisdom that there is a right time for everything (Ecclesiastes 3:1-8).

Beloved, do not go around announcing to people that your breakthrough is coming. Many enemies are disguised as friends. They can go all out to prevent your breakthrough from coming to pass if they get to know about it. In Genesis 37, Joseph had a dream and shared it with his brothers. The Bible tells us that his brothers, who had hated him because their father loved him more than them, hated him even more because of his dream. They could not bear the thought of having him rule over them, so they sold him into slavery. They tried to stop the manifestation of Josephâ??s dream, but eventually, it came to pass. I pray for you today that you will not share your dreams and aspirations with the wrong people. May the Lord give you the wisdom to know when to share a testimony and when to keep quiet, in Jesusâ?? name.

In 1 Kings 17:1, when Elijah decreed that there would be no rain until he said so, the heavens were shut immediately. However, in todayâ??s Bible reading, he told Ahab, â??I have heard the sound of abundance of rain,â?• even when it had not started raining. He announced a miracle when it had not even manifested. Eventually, the man of God had to pray seven times before the rain began to fall. This was someone who declared just once that it would not rain, and heaven was shut for three and a half years.

Beloved, there are some prophecies you should keep to yourself; do not talk your miracles away. Some prophecies should not be revealed to anyone until a manifestation has occurred. There are even miracles that you must not share until God instructs you to do so. Indeed, wisdom is profitable to direct (Ecclesiastes 10:10).

KEY POINT

It is wise to know when to share a testimony and when to keep it private.

OPEN HEAVENS DEVOTIONAL 25 NOVEMBER 2026 COMMENTARY

Yesterday, Daddy taught us about private miracles and the importance of guarding what God is doing in our lives. Today, he continues with a related but distinct message: donâ??t share premature testimonies. There is a difference between a miracle that has been established and a prophecy that is still in the process of fulfilment. Todayâ??s devotional, â??Donâ??t Share Premature Testimonies,â?• is a call to wisdom. Daddy shows us that timing matters, that the enemy can use premature announcements against us, and that we need divine wisdom to know when to speak and when to keep silent. Letâ??s examine what the Word says about this important truth.

Donâ??t Share Testimonies Not Yet Established

The first lesson is that you should not share testimonies that are not yet established. Daddy shares a practice from the RCCG conventions: when he calls out people who had been trusting God for the fruit of the womb and had received their miracles, he would say, â??Some people came last year, trusting God for the fruit of the womb. Now, they are pregnant. If you are one of them, please do not come forward yet. Instead, wait until the baby is born.â?• This is not due to fear of the enemy; it is based on the wisdom that there is a right time for everything (Ecclesiastes 3:1-8). The Memorise verse says, â??A time to rend, and a time to sew; a time to keep silence, and a time to speakâ?• (Ecclesiastes 3:7). In everyday life, this means that a pregnancy is not the same as a baby. A prophecy is not the same as a manifestation. A promise is not the same as a possession. There is a gap between the announcement and the arrival, and in that gap, wisdom is needed. Donâ??t announce what God has not yet established. Wait until the testimony is fully formed before you share it. The waiting is not a lack of faith â?? it is the wisdom of knowing that some things are better protected in silence.

The Enemy Can Prevent Your Breakthrough If They Know About It

The second lesson is that the enemy can prevent your breakthrough if they know about it. Daddy says, â??Do not go around announcing to people that your breakthrough is coming. Many enemies are disguised as friends. They can go all out to prevent your breakthrough from coming to pass if they get to know about it.â?• In Genesis 37, Joseph had a dream and shared it with his brothers. His brothers, who already hated him because their father loved him more, hated him even more because of his dream. They could not bear the thought of having him rule over them, so they sold him into slavery. They tried to stop the manifestation of Josephâ??s dream. In everyday life, this means that not everyone who hears your vision will celebrate it. Some people will try to sabotage it. They will speak doubt into your dream, gossip about your plans, or actively work against your progress. This is why you must be careful with whom you share your dreams and aspirations. Daddy prays, â??May the Lord give you the wisdom to know when to share a testimony and when to keep quiet, in Jesusâ?? name.â?•

Your breakthrough is precious. Protect it with silence. Let the enemy find out about it when it has already come to pass.

You Need Wisdom to Know When to Share a Testimony

The third lesson is that you need wisdom to know when to share a testimony. In 1 Kings 17:1, when Elijah decreed that there would be no rain until he said so, the heavens were shut immediately. However, in todayâ??s Bible reading, he told Ahab, â??I have heard the sound of abundance of rain,â? • even when it had not started raining. Eventually, the man of God had to pray seven times before the rain began to fall. This was someone who declared just once that it would not rain, and heaven was shut for three and a half years. In everyday life, this means that even prophets can speak prematurely. Elijah was a man of God, but he had to learn the difference between a decree and a declaration. Some prophecies should be kept to yourself. Some prophecies should not be revealed until the manifestation has occurred. There are even miracles you must not share until God instructs you to do so. Ecclesiastes 10:10 says, â??Wisdom is profitable to direct.â? • Wisdom is not just knowing what to say â?? it is knowing when to say it. Ask God for the wisdom to know the difference between a testimony that is ready to be shared and a prophecy that is still in the making. Your words have power, and timing is everything.

Timing Is Everything

What a timely word from Daddy. Donâ??t share testimonies not yet established, the enemy can prevent your breakthrough if they know about it, and you need wisdom to know when to share. This is a message about guarding your future and protecting your destiny. Not every promise needs to be announced. Not every vision needs to be shared. Some things are for you and God alone until the appointed time. This week, examine what you have been sharing and with whom. Ask God for wisdom to know the difference between a premature testimony and a completed miracle. And remember: the right word at the wrong time can sabotage a blessing. Keep your mouth, and watch God establish what He has promised.

Action Steps

1. Examine what you have been sharing. Take an inventory of the dreams, visions, and promises you have been sharing. Ask God to show you if any of them have been shared prematurely.
2. Practice silence. This week, commit to keeping your dreams and breakthroughs between you and God until they are established. Resist the urge to announce what has not yet come to pass.
3. Pray for wisdom. Ask God for the wisdom to know when to speak and when to keep silent. Trust Him to direct your words and your timing.

Prayer Points

1. Father, I thank You for the wisdom in Your Word. Thank You for teaching me the importance of timing and for protecting my future.
2. Lord, forgive me for the times I have shared premature testimonies. Help me to learn from Your wisdom and to guard my mouth, in Jesusâ?? name.

3. Father, give me the wisdom to know when to speak and when to keep silent. Let my words be directed by You, and let me never talk my miracles away, in Jesusâ?? name.
4. Lord, protect my breakthroughs from the enemy. Let every hidden enemy who would seek to sabotage my blessing be exposed and defeated, in Jesusâ?? name.
5. Father, help me to guard my dreams and visions. Teach me to keep what needs to be kept and to share only what You have released me to share, in Jesusâ?? name.
6. Lord, separate me from fake friends who would use my secrets against me. Deliver me from those who pretend to celebrate me while working against me, in Jesusâ?? name.
7. Father, bring my testimonies to full manifestation. Establish every promise You have made to me, and let me share the testimony only when it is complete, in Jesusâ?? name.
