OPEN HEAVEN 31 JANUARY 2025 TODAY DEVOTIONAL

TOPIC: GOD TEACHES I

MEMORISE:

For his God doth instruct him to discretion, and doth teach him.
Isaiah 28:26

READ: Psalm 25:4-12

⁴ Shew me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths.

⁵ Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day.

⁶ Remember, O Lord, thy tender mercies and thy lovingkindnesses; for they have been ever of old.

⁷ Remember not the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions: according to thy mercy remember thou me for thy goodnessâ?? sake, O Lord.

⁸ Good and upright is the Lord: therefore will he teach sinners in the way.

⁹ The meek will he guide in judgment: and the meek will he teach his way.

¹⁰ All the paths of the Lord are mercy and truth unto such as keep his covenant and his testimonies.

¹¹ For thy nameâ??s sake, O Lord, pardon mine iniquity; for it is great.

¹² What man is he that feareth the Lord? him shall he teach in the way that he shall choose.

RCCG OPEN HEAVEN 31 JANUARY 2025 TODAY MESSAGE

While I was studying for my PhD, I was faced with 186 simultaneous equations, which I had been trying to solve for 18 months. With no solution in sight, it looked like I would have to pick a new problem to solve, meaning that my 18 months of efforts would go to waste. One night, around 10pm, after battling the problem and still not making progress, I decided to read my Bible and go to bed. I was reading Exodus 14, where the Israelites crossed the Red Sea, and I heard God's voice, "That is the solution to your problem." It didn't make sense to me that the story of the crossing of the Red Sea would be the solution to a PhD thesis problem.

However, God said further, "Go and bring your equations." I obeyed, and He started teaching me, instructing me to put some equations on the left and some on the right. By the time I finished, I realized that all the ones on the left had something in common, likewise the ones on the right. Then, God said, "Now, solve the equations on the left together and those on the right together. Then, bring the two together." God taught me Mathematics with the parting of the Red Sea, and after five hours, my thesis was ready. It was so good that the external examiner said that he had no questions for me.

God teaches His children through His word. If you are an ardent student of the Bible, every now and then, as you study, He will teach you things that will make difficult situations become easy for you.

David said in Psalm 119:105:

Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.

Sometimes, the solution to your problem may come from just simply reading the Bible without necessarily having a man of God lay hands on your head. Unfortunately, many Christians don't read their Bible, and that is why they continue to struggle with simple problems for many years. Jesus said in John 8:32:

And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.

Having a knowledge of the truth through God's word will ensure that you live victoriously. Students know that if they don't study their textbooks, they will fail their exams. Your Bible is the textbook of life; study it so that you will not fail in life.

ACTION POINT

Make sure you spend quality time studying your Bible every day
