TOPIC: DON'T OVERWORK YOURSELF I

MEMORISE:

And on the seventh day God ended his work which he had made; and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had made.

Genesis 2:2

READ: 1 Kings 19:4-8

⁴ But he himself went a day's journey into the wilderness, and came and sat down under a juniper tree: and he requested for himself that he might die; and said, It is enough; now, O Lord, take away my life; for I am not better than my fathers.

⁵ And as he lay and slept under a juniper tree, behold, then an angel touched him, and said unto him, Arise and eat.

⁶ And he looked, and, behold, there was a cake baken on the coals, and a cruse of water at his head. And he did eat and drink, and laid him down again.

⁷ And the angel of the Lord came again the second time, and touched him, and said, Arise and eat; because the journey is too great for thee.

⁸ And he arose, and did eat and drink, and went in the strength of that meat forty days and forty nights unto Horeb the mount of God.

RCCG OPEN HEAVENS 29 AUGUST 2026 TODAY MESSAGE

Elijah must have used up a lot of stored-up spiritual energy when he prayed, and fire fell from heaven in 1 Kings 18:36-38. After that, he drew upon the same reservoir of spiritual energy to summon rain from heaven. It had not rained for three and a half years, and the sky was absolutely clear, but he put a significant demand on his reservoir of spiritual energy by praying until it started raining (1 Kings 18:41-45).

Furthermore, he used even more spiritual energy to run faster than the king's chariot (1 Kings 18:46) for a distance that some Bible scholars estimate to be about seven kilometres. After doing all these, he hadn't rested or taken time to recharge his spiritual energy when he received news that Queen Jezebel was after his life.

His spiritual energy had been grossly depleted, so he ran for three days and nights to save his life. By the time he got to the juniper tree in today's Bible reading, he was so weak and spiritually drained that he prayed to God to end his life. As soon as he said this prayer, he fell asleep because he had not slept for more than three days.

The angel of the Lord came to wake him up to eat, and after eating, he fell asleep again, even though he was aware that Queen Jezebel was still after his life. The angel of the Lord had to wake him up a second time to eat again because he needed strength for the great journey ahead of him. You must also take time out to rest and recharge your spiritual energy if you want to run the race ahead of you successfully.

In Genesis 1:1-31, the Bible describes how God created one thing after another. It was a lot of work, but as the account progressed to Genesis 2:2, which is today's memory verse, you will see that God rested.

Beloved, you cannot be wiser than God. If God Himself rested after creation, then you must also create time to rest from time to time. Do not finish one demanding task after another without taking time to rest.

Many people have overworked themselves to the point of exhaustion, but this is not God's plan for anyone. He wants you to know when and how to take rests so you don't burn yourself out.

Beloved, I pray that the Almighty God will shower you with His wisdom so you will know how to preserve your strength, in Jesus' name.

REFLECTION

Do you rest when you ought to?

OPEN HEAVENS DEVOTIONAL 29 AUGUST 2026 COMMENTARY

MEMORISE: Genesis 2:2

“And on the seventh day God ended his work which he had made; and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had made.”

Even God rested after His work. Rest is not a sign of weakness—it is a divine principle. You cannot sustain spiritual effectiveness without seasons of rest and refueling.

BIBLE READING: 1 Kings 19:4-8

This passage records Elijah’s exhaustion after the victory on Mount Carmel. He had prayed down fire, summoned rain, and outrun Ahab’s chariot. Then Jezebel threatened his life. Depleted and drained, he ran into the wilderness, sat under a juniper tree, and prayed to die. An angel woke him twice, fed him, and told him to eat for the journey ahead. His physical and spiritual depletion required rest and nourishment before he could continue.

Elijah’s Depletion: A Warning to the Overworked

“Elijah must have used up a lot of stored-up spiritual energy when he prayed, and fire fell from heaven in 1 Kings 18:36-38. After that, he drew upon the same reservoir of spiritual energy to summon rain from heaven. It had not rained for three and a half years, and the sky was absolutely clear, but he put a significant demand on his reservoir of spiritual energy by praying until it started raining (1 Kings 18:41-45).”

What Elijah Did

Called down fire from heaven

Prayed for rain after 3.5 years of drought

The Spiritual Cost

Massive spiritual energy output

Continued depletion

What Elijah Did
Outran the king's chariot

The Spiritual Cost
Physical and spiritual exhaustion

Furthermore, he used even more spiritual energy to run faster than the king's chariot (1 Kings 18:46) for a distance that some Bible scholars estimate to be about seven kilometres. After doing all these, he hadn't rested or taken time to recharge his spiritual energy when he received news that Queen Jezebel was after his life.

The Threat	His Condition
Jezebel threatened his life	He was spiritually and physically drained
He had no time to recharge	He ran in exhaustion

The Breaking Point: Elijah Prayed to Die

His spiritual energy had been grossly depleted, so he ran for three days and nights to save his life. By the time he got to the juniper tree in today's Bible reading, he was so weak and spiritually drained that he prayed to God to end his life.

1 Kings 19:4 And he requested for himself that he might die; and said, It is enough; now, O LORD, take away my life; for I am not better than my fathers.

What Elijah Felt	The Reality
I want to die	He was not suicidal—he was exhausted
It is enough	He had depleted all his reserves
I am not better than my fathers	Depression often follows spiritual highs

As soon as he said this prayer, he fell asleep because he had not slept for more than three days.

The Signs of Depletion	What They Indicate
Suicidal thoughts	Extreme exhaustion
Praying to die	Spiritual and physical burnout
Instant collapse	Need for rest and restoration

God's Response: Rest and Nourishment

The angel of the Lord came to wake him up to eat, and after eating, he fell asleep again, even though he was aware that Queen Jezebel was still after his life. The angel of the Lord had to wake him up a second time to eat again because he needed strength for the great journey ahead of him.

1 Kings 19:5-7 And the angel of the LORD came again the second time, and touched him, and said, Arise and eat; because the journey is too great for thee.

God's Prescription for Elijah

Rest

Food

Time to recharge

What You Need

Sleep, Sabbath, restoration

Physical and spiritual nourishment

Do not rush back into battle

You must also take time out to rest and recharge your spiritual energy if you want to run the race ahead of you successfully.

Even God Rested

In Genesis 1:1-31, the Bible describes how God created one thing after another. It was a lot of work, but as the account progressed to Genesis 2:2, which is today's memory verse, you will see that God rested.

Genesis 2:2 And on the seventh day God ended his work which he had made; and he rested.

God's Example

He worked, then rested

He blessed the Sabbath

He did not work endlessly

Why It Matters

Rest is part of His design

Rest is holy, not lazy

Burnout is not from God

Beloved, you cannot be wiser than God. If God Himself rested after creation, then you must also create time to rest from time to time. Do not finish one demanding task after another without taking time to rest.

How to Rest and Recharge (Practical Steps)

Based on Daddy Adeboye's teaching, here is how to preserve your strength and avoid burnout:

1. Recognize the Signs of Depletion

When you feel hopeless, exhausted, irritable, or spiritually dry—these may be signs you need rest. Do not ignore them.

2. Take Time to Rest

Mark 6:31 And he said unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while.

Jesus told His disciples to rest. Do the same. Take a break from ministry, work, and even prayer if you need physical rest.

3. Eat and Be Nourished

Elijah was fed twice before his journey. You need physical nourishment and spiritual food. Eat well. Read God’s word. Feed your soul.

4. Sleep

Do not sacrifice sleep for productivity. God created sleep to restore your body and mind. Do not neglect it.

5. Take Sabbaths

Set aside time weekly to rest from work, ministry, and demands. Let your body and spirit recover.

Warning: Burnout Is Not God’s Will

Daddy Adeboye’s devotional carries an urgent warning: overworking yourself to the point of exhaustion is not God’s plan.

If You Do Not Rest	The Result
You burn out	You become ineffective
You lose perspective	You may want to give up
You become vulnerable	The enemy can attack

Conclusion: Your Prayer for Wisdom to Rest

Daddy Adeboye closes with a prayer that God will give you wisdom to preserve your strength. Rest is not laziness—it is obedience to God’s design.

Pray this:

“Lord Jesus, I thank You that even You rested after creation. Forgive me for neglecting rest and driving myself to exhaustion. Help me to recognize when I am depleted. Teach me to rest, to eat, to sleep, and to recharge. I do not want to burn out. I do not want to pray to die in exhaustion. Give me wisdom to preserve my strength so I can run the race ahead of me successfully. In Jesus’ mighty name.”

Action Steps:

- 1. The Exhaustion Check: Are you feeling depleted, exhausted, or hopeless? Stop. Rest. Do not push through.

2. The Rest Commitment: Set aside one day this week for intentional rest—no work, no ministry demands, just rest and recharging.
3. The Elijah Reflection: Remember Elijah. A mighty prophet asked to die. It was not his lack of faith—it was his lack of rest. Do not let the same happen to you.
